

Fuzzy stuck in tree

Yesterday afternoon gave trouble to our friend Dr. Warren Fuzzy. He had been climbing up an oak tree when a crow shrieked in his ears. He was so spooked, he fell onto a branch. But, considering he was wearing trousers, they caught in the branches and he was suspended in the air as squirrels pelted him with acorns. Fuzzy was not available for comment. He should be out of the tree by 8 am. tomorrow.

The circus is coming!!

The circus is on its way to Bumble! Many people were excited when they found out, including Terrace Youngbutt. "I love the circus! I have been going since 2003!" Many of the circus fans love Bobo the clown, Harry the lion tamer and Friedrich the snake. The circus will be in town from November 18 to November 22.

I went to IKEA and had some strange times. First of all, I could not find parking for 20 minutes until a VERY old man finally figured out how to turn on his car. He had bracelets and this BIG necklace that was made out of chain. When I got inside, there was this elevator that went sooooooooooooo slow. I went to go find kitchen stuff, but all of a sudden this guy jumped from below the spatulas and said "Halt you have to get this spoon for $16.99!!" That costed Way too much so I said "No!" but he kept on ranting that it was 'a part of life.' So I just went around him to get to my stuff. Later, I was going to the bed posts on the tall rack. But the posts were high. So I climbed up and got it, I guess that I shook the rack because a huge potted plant fell on my head. I could not see, so I started running. But, I tripped over one of the candle displays, causing hubbub and distress as an IKEA guy ran over and fell on his face. All of a sudden, these guys jumped in from the ceiling (?) and started chanting "DOP, DOP, DOP, DOP Eahh!" while tossing rugs, stuffed dogs, coffeeable coaster and a gigantic inflatable balloon. (?) I just decided to take the plant off my head. Leaving the ceiling dwellers to their chanting. I went upstairs to get some food, but first I went to the bathroom. In there some guy was putting a large amount of soap on his hands and a guy kept on sliding under the doors so when you walk by he says "Hullo!" The soap guy started putting soap on other peoples hands so I waited my turn. When I went to go get food this guy said "Eggs, bacon, Grits or sausage?!" I did not know what he meant so I said "meatballs with gravy and cranberry sauce please." The guy said "Herroumph" and gave me my food. All of a sudden, the spoon guy ran over and threw a piece of cake at me. I just ate the cake and lived happily ever after. (or did I?!!)

Kangaroo's concert causes traffic

Kenny Kangaroo's tap dancing concert caused a massive traffic backup. "I was sitting at the intersection for half an hour" said Boris Butterfly. Kangaroo's concert went on for three hours with the only mishap occurring when Frodo Frog's doughnut cart went flying with pollo gull getting splattered with jelly doughnuts.

Able Fable finds new type of fish

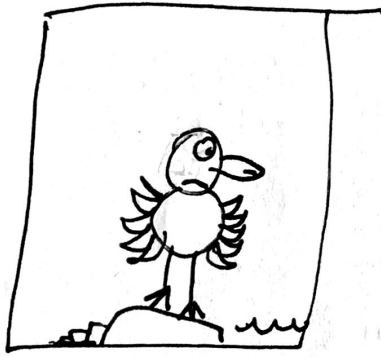

Professor Able Fable discovered a different type of fish at the bottom of the Berkeley Marina. The new type of fish is called 'Blob fish' because of its roundness. The Blobfish was found near New Zealand but it is the first time it has been found near California. If you want to look at more of Professor Able Fable's discoveries go to www.FableFinds.com.

Berry Bear upset with Park Rangers

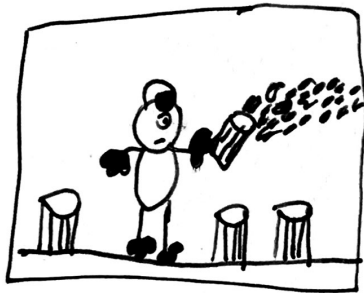

Berry Bear was wandering his woods when he found more than 500 tourists speaking in a large amount of languages. "I saw this guy throw his trash into my creek!" Bear said angrily. Bear had been in the woods all the time, so this was his first time seeing tourists. "It's all the park rangers fault" he said to reporters "they decided to build all the stuff."
