

Trouble Occurs at New Years Party

Yesterday was New Years eve, the infamous night of drunk screaming and crazy people. "I was partying when this big bang happened," said Fluff Daddy who was at a party at Prappa da Pappa's house. The bang turned out to be his neighbor Olga, who was replacing the satellite dish which had been bumped into by a bat. "Ryan Seacrest just started shaking!" Olga said. "I went up to my roof and saw a bat had turned the satellite towards a tree." She walked along the roof, when she stepped on the falling apart house of Fluff Daddy. The roof ended up caving in and Olga will pay 66 thousand dollars for the roof. Fluff Daddy will pay 97 thousand dollars.

B

I went to the Food Barn and had quite an odd supermarket trip. First, I had NO idea how those doors that magically open to let people in and out work. So I thought these people were very special and asked some guy how do these doors work. He said "Are you some creep?" so I placed an evil spell on him and he called the cops. I went forward and immediately the doors went open! I discovered the shopping carts next to aisle 4 and went to get pineapples. I found them on top of the lemons and had to climb all the way to the top. Once I was halfway up, when I tripped and I started a huge avalanche of lemons. The pineapple ended up in my pants and I started screaming. The manager, named Eldemoord, heard the screaming and accidentally smashed me in the head with a mop. I was so angry I threw a lemon at him but I missed and hit a huge stack of pear boxes and knocked it over. All of a sudden, Eldemoord tripped and a pear hit my cart and I started rolling. I started to go downwards and I picked up speed. Everyone in my path started screeching and tossing odd shaped elf feet at the carts. I continued to zoom along, but came to an abrupt halt as I slammed into the milk cartons in aisle 13. I went off to get some raspberries, when who do I see, but Nature Ned. I was so happy and we started talking, but I did not see that my cart was in the way of a bunch of people. I moved it out of the way, when the dudes who run the food barn thought it had been left there. They took it and I was so upset, I started screaming and tossed an apple at the guy. He called his manager (Eldemoord) and he started asking if I was the same guy who was caused distress to everyone. I said yes. Then, Eldemoord went off and told me I have to clean everything. I finished that, but I forgot to pay for my food. The alarm went off and I was arrested for theft and wearing ugly pants, My pants just have polka dots!
